Join us in shaping policies that secure Grazing for Agroecology for the future.

Why you should attend?

With the development of the new CAP, there is an opportunity to reverse the long-term decline in grazing across Europe. This session will explore how policy measures can unlock this potential and strengthen ecosystem services.

Together we have the chance to stimulate grazing through targeted measures—and this session will provide the insights and tools to make that happen.

Who should join?

European and national policy makers

DG Agri representatives
